How to Comment on San Diego County Board of Supervisors Meeting Agenda Items

Due to the Coronavirus (COVID-19) public health emergency, the County of San Diego has made several changes to Board of Supervisors meetings to protect the public's health and prevent the disease from spreading. Per the Governor's executive order to stay home, in person participation at Board of Supervisors meetings is not allowed at this time. You may participate in the meetings via teleconference instead of attending in person.

Here are the ways you can share your opinions!

Submit an eComment

The most direct way to voice your opinion for upcoming Board meeting agenda items is through a service called eComment. You can start submitting eComments when the agenda is released, typically the Wednesday before the meeting. The eComments are sent to the Board of Supervisors and the Chief Administrative Officer for their review. eComments can even be submitted during the meeting.

Public communication eComments for non-agenda items will be read into the record at the Board Meeting. Public comments on agenda items will be available to view online and the number of comments received on each agenda item will be stated during the meeting. All eComments will be entered into the administrative record of the meeting.
